To: The Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission
President Velshi:

The fact that nuclear energy generates toxic waste needs to be clearly understood by all we we struggle to implement the use of renewable energy sources in our lives and economies. To try to conceal the fact that toxic wastes are endemic to the use of nuclear energy is, in fact, revealing. The change of the cloak from Darlington Waste Management Facility to Nuclear Sustainability Services Darlington is no change at all, though it is very funny, in a macabre way.

At least you might try to respect the intelligence of your clientele.

With sustainable hope,
