August 20, 2025

Ref. 2025-H-12

Revision 1

CNSC to conduct public hearing on NexGen Energy Ltd.'s licence application to prepare a site for and construct Rook I uranium mine and mill project

The Canadian Nuclear Safety Commission (CNSC) will hold a public hearing to consider an application from NexGen Energy Ltd. (NexGen) for a licence to prepare a site for and construct its proposed Rook I mine and mill project. NexGen is proposing to construct and operate a new uranium mine and mill in the southwest Athabasca Basin in northern Saskatchewan, approximately 155 km north of the town of La Loche, 80 km south of the former Cluff Lake mine site, and 640 km northwest of Saskatoon. The proposed project would be located within Treaty 8 territory and Métis Nation-Saskatchewan Northern Region 2. The licence application covers the site preparation for and the construction of all structures, systems and components required to support future operations. This revised notice is to announce the location of Part 1 of the hearing. The hearing will take place in the Outaouais Room, 140 Promenade du Portage, Gatineau, Quebec, and virtually via Zoom.

Purpose and scope of hearing

Pursuant to section 24 of the Nuclear Safety and Control Act, a licence issued by the Commission is required for the proposed site preparation for and construction of the project. The proposed project is subject to an environmental assessment (EA) under the Canadian Environmental Assessment Act, 2012 (CEAA 2012). Although the Impact Assessment Act came into force in August 2019, replacing CEAA 2012, it includes provisions to allow ongoing projects with EAs initiated under CEAA 2012 to continue under their existing EA processes. As a prerequisite to the licensing decision, the Commission must also make an EA decision to determine whether the proposed project is likely to cause significant adverse environmental effects.
