Subject: small modular reactors

On the topic of small nuclear reactors, have we not been there before? they were called "Slow Poke's" and no one wanted them, even for FREE. Why would our government go along with nuclear industry death throws, and spread high level radioactive waste across the country should there come to light a willing taker? Canada currently has 50,000 TONS of waste fuel sitting around the great lakes (drinking water for millions) and no "proven" method to contain this ticking time bomb. enough is enough.
